

7 x 7 Scripture Memory

How to use these review sheets:

1. Begin by writing the verse you intend to memorize on the first line of the "week" page.
2. Now recite it (as best you can) and check the first box next to it.
3. There are 6 empty boxes per week, each box representing a day. Recite the verse each day for 6 days, and check the corresponding box.
When you get to the seventh day, you'll see the letter "R." That stands for "Review" (More on this in step 5).
4. Recite the verse 6 days a week for 7 weeks. You can add a new verse every week (e.g. the FighterVerse) and have 7 going simultaneously.
5. When you complete 7 weeks for a verse, turn to the second page (the "month" page) and write the verse on the top line. You will now review this verse once a week. Whenever you come to "R" on the "week" page, it means to go to the month page and review.

The desired effect:

By reviewing a verse six days a week for seven weeks, and once a week for seven months, the goal is that it will really stay with you.

I have memorized numerous Fighter Verses which, after a week, have totally disappeared from my head. But those verses that I have put through this system have stayed with me for years.

Disclaimer:

I learned this method in college from a similar looking handout I got from Campus Crusade for Christ. So if you like it (or don't!), just remember that it wasn't my idea. Someone else should get the credit/blame for it. But as for me, I praise God for it!

Tyler Kenney

January 21, 2009

